

Appreciation

All thanks and praise to God Almighty for keeping us till this memorable moment.

On the joyful occasion of our 30th reunion as the graduating class of 1995 of the University College Hospital, Ibadan, we also extend our heartfelt appreciation to you, the Chief Medical Director, for your steadfast leadership and the enduring legacy of excellence upheld by this great institution.

We remain deeply grateful for the solid foundation, rigorous training, and unwavering support we received during our formative years at UCH. These have shaped us into the men and women that we are today—doctors who are not only competent and compassionate, but also highly esteemed in our various specialties and communities around the world.

Thank you for preserving the values, standards, and vision that continue to inspire generations of medical professionals. We are proud to be products of the UCH, and we celebrate this milestone with profound gratitude.

Warm regards,
The UCH Graduating Class of 1995
